INDEX TRADING STRATEGIES COURSE

COURSE OVERVIEW

- An index is important to measure the performance of investments against a relevant market index. Some of the popular indexes are Nifty50 Bank Nifty and Sectoral Index.
- An index fund is a portfolio of assets which generally includes shares in many companies, as well as bonds and other assets.
- Index trading is defined as the buying and selling of a specific stock market index and sectoral index. Like any other market, it requires an in-depth understanding of the strategies.
- This course will explain you how to use technical analysis and F&O for Swing and positional trading of different stock indices, Nifty and Bank nifty trading.
